Jeremy Enigk

Morning arise
Traced by surprise
In an ocean wind the waves are lost
Everything in memory living on

Wandering in the night
When the harbor closed
A mermaid's song
Through the island hear

Their sound dissolve
Lie down beneath the angry mob
Rise up a hero to belong
Father arise
Ever turning wheel

And I know that I often say too much
And I know that often reasons are out of touch
Kingdoms will fall
When the harbor closed

A siren song
Through the mountains hear
Their sound dissolve
An angel remind us who we are
We're marching through the hardest part of all
