

The Coffee Song

Jeremy Loops

You hear what you want
But I want coffee
I'm just so sorry that nobody cares
And that you're feeling like this

I can't help you out
It's the same old story
That you keep on telling 'til somebody hears
God knows that shit gives me the fear

I won't superspread
What you said
I'm 'a sit out, out
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
Darling, 'cause you
You love, you love, you love
You love to hear your own damn voice
You love, you love, you love
You love to hear your own damn noise
So, why don't you
Just talk to you?

It's sunny outside
And I'm not your hostage
Now, my head starts playing this tune
And you'll love it 'cause it's all about you

Say

Before you get back again
I'm 'a fade out, out
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
Darling, 'cause you
You love, you love, you love
You love to hear your own damn voice
You love, you love, you love
You love to hear your own damn noise
So, why don't you
Just talk to you?

Before you get back again
I'm 'a fade out, out
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
I just want coffee
Darling, 'cause you
You love, you love, you love
You love to hear your own damn voice
You love, you love, you love
You love to hear your own damn noise

So, why don't you
Just talk to you?

Stop that!
