

7:02

Jeremy Messersmith

I've heard that life is more than just what we paint it
I've heard that life is more than asphalt and pavement

But it's hard to see,
through the traffic and the fumes
I can't be everywhere, but I'll be home by 7:02

I've heard that love
Is a game for the fools who play it
I've heard that war
Is a shame for the fools who wage it

But I'm getting tired
Throwing flowers at a tomb
I've got to run along
So I'll be home by 7:02

I can't carry the world on my own
And you can't help me,
But you can hold my hand if you wanted to Just kiss me once or twice
When I get home at 7:02
