

Hitman

Jeremy Messersmith

I need a hitman for my heart,
Someone to bump it off a balcony,
Nonchalantly leave the scene,
I need a hitman for my heart.

It doesn't who might get hurt,
Never thinks only loves recklessly,
Slow but sure it's killing me,
I need a hitman for my heart.

I've loved you for so long,
And I don't know how to stop,
Tired of crying, holding on,
My heart wants to love you but I just want it gone.

I need a hitman for my heart.
Someone to gently strangle it at night,
Lovingly by candlelight,
I need a hitman for my heart.

I've loved you for so long,
And I don't know how to stop,
Tired of crying, holding on,
My heart wants to love you but I just want it gone,
I need a hitman for my heart.

I need a hitman for my heart,
Someone professional who's fast and clean,
So they won't feel anything,
I need a hitman for my heart.
