Jeremy Passion

I picked up the dictionary
Trying to define the way
The way you make me feel inside
I looked from A to Z
But still I could not find the words to describe
Instead I found words like Amazing
And Pulchritudinous, Extraordinary
And even Marvelous
But still those words don't bring you justice

I came to conclusion
You're best left undefined

You'll always be a question mark to me
There ain't no scientific mathematical equation
To solve your mystery
You'll always be a step ahead of me, yeah
See I've gone down the road, found no gold
So I'mma let you be
You'll always remain a mystery

So I searched the World Wide Web
Tryin' to find the page
The page that would best describe ya
And I searched the whole damn thing
But still I couldn't find the answer

I gave up on searching
I'm goin' out my mind
I came to conclusion
Your best left undefined

You'll always be a question mark to me
There ain't no scientific mathematical equation
To solve your mystery
You'll always be a step ahead of me, yeah
See I've gone down the road, found no gold
So I'mma let you be
You'll always remain a mystery

See finally, I found you hiding in the dictionary pages of mine
Oh there you are, my shining star, the definition of undefined

You'll always be a question mark to me
There ain't no scientific mathematical equation
To solve your mystery
You'll always be a step ahead of me, yeah
See I've gone down the road, found no gold
So I'mma let you be
You'll always remain a mystery
