

I long to know You more rightly
I long to see You more clearly
Won't You show me more and more of You

No longer to simply see in part
The fullness of Your grace
The wonders of Your heart
May I be so bold and ask of You
May I ask?

Here I am crying
Before You I am kneeling
I am filled with desperation
To be close to You
Rend the veil of my confusion
All my doubts and disillusion
Draw me close and keep me still there
In awe of You
In awe of You

I long to know You more rightly
I long to see You more clearly
Won't You show me more and more of You

No, no longer to simply see in part
The fullness of Your grace
The wonders of Your heart
May I be so bold and ask of You
May I ask?

And here I am crying
Before You I am kneeling
I am filled with desperation
To be close to You (to be close to You)
Rend the veil of my confusion
All my doubts and disillusion
Draw me close and keep me still there
In awe of You
In awe of You

To see more of You
To see much more of You, God
I must see more
I must see more
