

thinking 2 much

Jeremy Zucker

I was unimportant
You were just a friend
No one even noticed
We were just pretend

But oh god, this sucks
Always, you're thinking too much
Baby, slow down, realize
There's more here for you

I was on the border
You were choosing sides
Kiss me in the morning
Miss me in the night

But oh god, we suck
Always, we're thinking too much
Baby, slow down, realize
There's more here for you

You're thinking too much, baby
You're thinking too much, baby

Slow down, take time
You're always thinking too much, baby
Slow down, realize, yeah realize, yeah

All light is fading
But you look amazing
And my mind is racing
We're all losing patience
I might as well fake it
Since acting's your favorite
Thought this was vacation
I won't keep you waiting

You run a forest at the sunrise
Cutting down, come down
Two down in one try
Wanna go before it burns out
(And my mind is racing) Past blows, but it's sun drench
Past turns in the summer bent
(We're all losing patience) Seems less when you know better
Better off for it
(I might as well fake it) Star skies like a road map
The second I thought, not sure of it
(Since acting's your favorite) At some point it'll come back
Just don't wait for it
(Thought this was vacation) At some point it'll come back
Just don't wait for it (I won't keep you waiting)

Won't keep you waiting no more (what're you doing)
You're thinking too much, baby
