

Where Are You Going

Jerry Butler

Where are you going
Tell me what you want to be
You're coming of age
But you're lost on
A page no one can see

Is wisdom wasted on the young
Or will the peaceful songs you've song
Help to change the world

It's all up to you
Child, all you gotta do
Is grow up, little girl

You love now, you learn now
It's your turn now to live
And to give and oh, I wonder

Where in the world are you going
Will you find a Heaven or Hell
Will you be wise when
There's love in your eyes
Or too blind too tell

Oh, someday you'll learn the bitter truth
And when you look back on your youth
The one things you'll know is true
That's wherever you're going
My love goes with you

My love goes with you
Oh, baby, wether you're
Right or wrong
