

Love Changes Everything

Jerry Jeff Walker

Felt like writing a song, one that kind of rolls along
One simple and true, easy to sing
Little ditty about me and you, and all the things love can do
'Cause love comes along and changes every little thing that you do

You know the secret of our happiness is to give your lady love a kiss
First thing when the sun comes shining on through Just say I love you is the thing to do
I'll bet she says she's gonna love you, too
Watch how love changes every little thing you do

Love changes how you feel about yourself
Makes you want to get up and face the day
It changes how you look at everyone else
It can change your life in so many ways

That's all a simple song she sang, but before I stop and walk a way
Here's something that you might carry with you
Your life becomes a better place when a baby comes to share your days
And you find that little bugger changes every little thing you do

Love changes how you feel about yourself
Makes you want to get up and face the day
It changes how you look at everyone else
It can change your life in so many ways

Yeah, I felt like writing a song, one that kind of rolls along
One simple and true, easy to sing
Little ditty about me and you, and all the things love can do
'Cause love comes along and changes every little thing you do

A little love sure can change you
Love comes along and changes you
A little bit of love sure changes you