

Comin' Back For More

Jerry Lee Lewis

I keep on coming back for more every single time you hurt me
Knocking on your door begging you to let me in
I keep on swallowing my pride for a chance to be with you dear
Coming back for more knowing that I just can't win
You think I'd have sense enough to see the light of day
Instead of coming back for more why don't I stay away
But I keep coming back for more of the love you never gave me
Oh how blessed it is I keep on coming back for more

Yes you think ol' Jerry's had sense enough...
