

Hello, Hello Baby

Jerry Lee Lewis

Yeah, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, h ello

Hello baby, thought I'd call you on the telephone

Ooh, hello, hello, hello baby!

Thought I'd call you on the telephone

Every time, every time, every time I call you honey

Mmm, you ain't got your big fat self at home

Well, one and one is two

Two and two is four

Look out baby, love me, love me, love me more

Hello, hello, hello, hello, hello, hello baby

Ooh, I call you on the telephone

Every time I call you, honey

I never find your big fat self at home

Oh, look a-here now, look a-here!

Yeah, you sat there at that table

Quiet as a mouse

Let me tell you something, you gon' move this whole house

Look out honey!

Ooh, grr! Tell me more, baby

Ha-ha-ha, I can't stand to love you, yeah, I go plum crazy, man

Ooh, I gotta hear one on that ol' guitar now

Well, carry on, now baby

I've been fighting like a lion

But it looks like I'm gon' lose

Ooh, yes, I've been fightin' like a lion

It look like Jerry Lee's gonna lose

Ooh, 'cause I hate nobody, never with these women blues
