

You Went Back On Your Word

Jerry Lee Lewis

Said you would be mine and treat me right
You said you would love me the rest of my life
But you went back on your word little girl

You said you would never tell me a lie
But you broke your promise you're telling me why
You went back on your word little girl

When you were here by my side
I thought that you would stay beside
I know how to play that game on me
I don't know why you changed your mind
But I know that you wrap-a me inside
I did everything that you ask of me

Now that you have left me
And left me and left me what can I say
But I still love you in the same old way
But you went back on your word little girl

You said you would never tell me a lie
But you broke your promise you're telling me why
You went back on your word little girl

When you were here by my side
I thought that you would stay beside
I know how to play that game on me
I don't know why you changed your mind
But I know that you wrap-a me inside
I did everything that you ask of me
