

You've Been Cryin' Again

Jerry Reed

You've been cryin' again you've been cryin' again That old flame hasn't died it's still signed where it's always been
Will there always be this old memory to keep haunting me
For I see you've been cryin' again Won't you ever forget won't you ever set his mem'ry free and fa ll in love with me
Yesterday's gone but you keep hanging on yes it seems he's all that's in your dreams
You've been cryin' again cryin' again
Well yesterday haunt your life this way well it never end
Did you love him so that you just can't let go Well it must be so for I know you've been cryin' again
You've been cryin' again cryin' again
