

See You Soon

Jes

don't hang on, for fear you would throw it away listen your heart, it pounds to be inside me Everyday

I'll be dragging myself through the park far a long way from nobody cares don't look again, or try feel loss for this ending live to be aware, live to be with ourselves always longing for the edge

far a long way from nobody cares
and if you think you got, nothing to chase me away

I just don't care too much cause if you were wrong, I will lick it all up but if you say oh walk away then I'll see you soon, see you soon See You Soon...
