Right When Ya Left

Jess Moskaluke

Yeah, I closed that door and I poured a drink
For the first time in a long time I could finally breathe
Was it something I said, got you running away, never looking back
Was it something I did, never for a second did I think that

It got a little warmer in my bed
And in my head weren't the words you said
When you said goodbye
Didn't think I'd ever get over that night
But I did get over it
Thought you would leave me in a wreck
Bet that you never would have guessed
I'd be alright when you left

I thought it'd be a little harder to do
Falling asleep that first night without you
When I opened my eyes it was like seeing color for the first time
Still dark outside but I swear it felt like sunshine

It got a little warmer in my bed
And in my head weren't the words you said
When you said goodbye
Didn't think I'd ever get over that night
But I did get over it
Thought you would leave me in a wreck
Bet that you never would have guessed

My only regret
Was not leaving you
Before you had the chance to

It got a little warmer in my bed
And in my head weren't the words you said
When you said goodbye
Didn't think I'd ever get over that night
But I did get over it
Thought you would leave me in a wreck
Bet that you never would have guessed

Ooh
