

Thunder Song

Jess Williamson

My love is like jasmine vine crawling up a wall
My love is like a midnight train running all night long
I know you said a thousand times I'm the only one
But when I look into your eyes I feel it, something's gone

Who do you love?
Who do you love?
Who do you love?
Who do you love?

I feel it like a fire now, coming like a storm
Can't quiet my desire now, I need you even more
Thought I heard a thundering deep within my soul
Where the lightning touches down is out of my control

Who do you love?
Who do you love?
Who do you love?
Who do you love?

I see it in your face, I feel it, feel the touch
I'm running out of ways, you're running out
Thought you knew, thought you knew, thought you knew me better
Thought you knew, thought you knew, thought you knew

Who you love?
Who you love?
Who you love?
Who you love?
