Goodbye

Jesse & Joy

It hurts not having you near,
hurts not to hear your voice breathe your absence hurts but it hurts more to say goodbye.

It hurts like a slow death,
memory of the two,
burning blood in my veins, but today it dries without your love

Misery live surrounded by the gloom you are you waiting for you and nobody else if you call me I'm next to you all to feel the beating of your heart if you say I do not labor in two
I prefer to say goodbye

It hurts not having you near,
but it hurts more to say goodbye.

It hurts like a slow death,
memory of the two,
burning blood in my veins,
but today it dries without your love
you are you waiting for you and nobody else
if you say I do not labor in two
I prefer to say goodbye
I'm by your side
all to feel the beating of your heart
if you say I do not labor in two
I prefer to say goodbye ...
