

God Steps In

Jesse Labelle

When you finally get to
The beginning of your end
When you understand you
Don't really understand
When broken is all that
You have left to give
And the life your living
Ain't one you wanna live

He gon' be the answer to all your why
Middle of the midnight He gon' be the light
When you're down to your last prayer
He's gonna meet you there
That's when God steps in
That's when God steps in

When you learn that holding on
Starts with letting go
And you surrender all the things
You thought you could control
That's when you're gonna find
You've fallen to your knees
That's when you're gonna find
The faith to believe

He gon' be the answer to all your why
Middle of the midnight He gon' be the light
When you're down to your last prayer
He's gonna meet you there
That's when...
He gon' be the answer to all your why
Middle of the midnight He gon' be the light
When you're down to your last prayer
He's gonna meet you there
That's when God steps in
That's when God steps in

He steps in to meet you in the heartbreak
He steps in to hold back the pain
He steps in if your hope wears then
And you feel like you're not enough, that's when
He steps in to meet you in the heartbreak
He steps in to hold back the pain
He steps in if your hope wears then
And you feel like you're not enough, that's when

He gon' be the answer to all your why
Middle of the midnight He gon' be the light
When you're down to your last prayer
He's gonna meet you there
That's when...
He gon' be the answer to all your why
Middle of the midnight He gon' be the light
When you're down to your last prayer
He's gonna meet you there
That's when God steps in
That's when God steps in

That's when God steps in
