

Who's Counting

Jesse Labelle

Four months, three weeks, 2 days
One broken heart, but who's counting?
Who's counting?
So many pieces of myself I lost
Still haven't found them
But who's counting

It's just one more lonely night
Just one more neon light
Whoever said that time could heal you
Didn't know this feeling
Always one more round
Chasing your memory down
Til' I'm about one drink away from drowning
But who's counting

I've checked my phone so many times
You'd think I know you're not calling
I'm not stopping
Says I leave right now, it's just 8 minutes to your house
From downtown yeah
But who's counting

It's just one more lonely night
Just one more neon light
Whoever said that time could heal you
Didn't know this feeling
Always one more round
Chasing your memory down
Til' I'm about one drink away from drowning
But who's counting
Who's counting

I guess you can't count on the stars aligning
If it all adds up to bad timing

It's just one more lonely night
Just one more neon light
Whoever said that time could heal you
Didn't know this feeling
Always one more round
Chasing your memory down
Til' I'm about one drink away from drowning
But who's counting
Who's counting

Yeah, who's counting
