

Thinkin Too Much

Jesse Rutherford

Maybe I've been thinkin' too much
Lately, I've been thinkin' too much 'bout everything
Baby, am I losing my touch?
I'm worried that I'm just too numb for love
'Cause I'm thinkin' too much 'bout everything all at once

Money comes, money goes, it's temporary
And beauty just can't last
And I'm usually caught up on what I can't control

Lately, I've been holding my cards close
Baby, you keep taking my heart from me
Oh, it's crazy how this game is tearing us apart, so far
Always reminded that I've been thinkin' too much 'bout everythi ng all at once

Money comes, money goes, it's temporary
And beauty just can't last
And I'm usually caught up on what I can't control

Once upon a time, I was out of sight
I was out of mind
Had to fool me twice to open up my eyes
Third one never lies
Even though it was easier before
I don't think that I could plead the fifth anymore
My sixth sense is the only one I trust
Told me, "Slow down, quit thinking too much"

'Cause money comes, money goes, it's temporary
And beauty just can't last
And I'm usually caught up on what I can't control

I know, I know
Money comes, money goes, it's temporary
You know it, you know it
And beauty just can't last
And I'm usually caught up on what I can't control
