

No Kings

Jesse Welles

No hatred, no violence
No starvation and no greed
And no kings, no kings
No kings

No lies and no bullets
No bombs and no need
For kings, no kings
No kings

No walls and no judgements
No oppression cowering
To kings, no kings
No kings

Every color, every culture
Every language, every creed
But no kings, no kings
No kings

No dying in the clutches
No more dying underneath
No kings, no kings
No kings

No more dying for the causes
No one asked for, no one needs
And no kings, no kings
No kings
