

The List

Jesse Welles

Well you got your bucket list, your grocery list, your list of things to do
You got a a list of all your wishes, that's a wish list dude
You got your Amazon and Santa Claus and Tooth Fairy too

But I know a list that don't exist and buddy so do you
It's the Epstein list, it's a mystery list
With a twist, it's a myth of a list that we all just missed
Be an optimist, not a pessimist
If you wish to persist, you probably ought to forget that list

What were we talking about? I don't remember
But I can sleep a lot better at night, yeah, life can just go a long
Knowing there's 10,000 hours of sunshine and flowers
And nobody doing damn thing wrong

Hear no, see no, Dan Bongino
Kash Patel, well I wouldn't want to be you
Sweating men with bulging eyes
Now tell me them fellas ain't compromised

Do do do do, any implicated dude will tell you
Anybody on the big list knows
Just how far the folks in charge will go
To keep the status quo

So when the war bell rings
The song that they'll sing is a song that we well know
I owe, I owe, so it's off to war I go

Well they said they're gonna fix it
But now they're all complicit
They owe, they owe, they owe, they owe, they owe
So it's off to war we go

Well send the poor off to war
What else are we for?
They owe, they owe, they owe, they owe