

I Hear A Song

Jessi Colter

Feel my temperature rising
Feeling like something's gone wrong
Feeling so cold and unwanted
Feeling that I'm lonely too long

I hear a song
I hear a singer

Feeling so tired so weary
Of my heart not finding a home
Seeing your footsteps leading nowhere
For me for your child in my womb

It is a singer who sang his own song
Could they not hear him
Or would they not listen
I would not give in on parts of that song
I hear a song I hear a singer
For it is a singer who sang his own song
His voice and his book says are all I can see
I will go softly singing his song

I hear a song I hear a singer
It is a singer who sang his own song
Hmmhmm
