

Fade Away

Jessica Lea Mayfield

As I lie awake my mind's given away
And all I feel is bad for bothering you
And I feel the pain from my heart and my brain
Fade away, fade away, fade away
Fade away, fade away, fade away

And as I lie to my friends
To pass it never ends
And it stays 'til the future comes

And I feel reborn like a baby
Except now I'm not treated like a child
And I just keep hoping that maybe
You'll fade away, fade away, fade away
Fade away, fade away, fade away

Let me die in this bed
That I made it is not your fault
That I made it, it's not your fault
Don't feel bad 'cause it's not your fault
