

Devil May Care

Jessica Lowndes

Eyes like eclipses
They turn me to stone
My dreams they've been haunted
Since I've brought you home

I'm not sleeping alone anymore
'Cause there's ghosts in the hallway and wolves at the door

You were dangerous I knew it somewhere in my bones
Like a dam set to burst on the valley below
You were devilish, the truth is that I should've known
Come around, and the devil may care still
But you know I don't
I know I don't

Your heart it was a wreckage
From the hurt in your soul
Playing games that are twisted
Till your cover, it was blown

I'm not sleeping alone anymore
'Cause there's ghosts in the hallway and wolves at the door

You were dangerous I knew it somewhere in my bones
Like a dam set to burst on the valley below
You were devilish, the truth is that I should've known
Come around, and the devil may care still
But you know I don't
You know I don't

Like a [?]
To a place
Burning numb
Lost in a haze

I'm not sleeping alone anymore
'Cause there's ghosts in the hallway and wolves at the door

You were dangerous I knew it somewhere in my bones
Like a dam set to burst on the valley below
You were devilish, the truth is that I should've known
And right now the devil may care still
But you know I don't
The devil may care still
But you know I don't
