

I Don't Want You Anymore

Jessica Lowndes

Well, I don't miss your kiss
It left me cold as ice
And I don't like your jokes
I laughed to be polite
But now it's just a chore
And I'm over it and bored

I don't want you
No, I don't want you anymore

Cause you said you loved me but that's not true
You don't love no one but you
And I won't crumble to the floor
Cause I don't want you anymore

Well, I don't miss your eyes
Or the empty look inside
You only saw yourself
When you looked into mine
If you were the only man left in the world
I still wouldn't want you
No, I don't want you anymore

Cause you said you loved me but that's not
true
You don't love no one but you
And I won't crumble to the floor
Cause I don't want you anymore

And when you notice that I'm gone
Don't come around cause I've moved on
Just watch my back walk out the door
Cause I don't want you anymore

You fooled me once but not again
But I don't want to be your friend
I'm so happy that you're gone
Just wave "bye, bye" I'm moving on

And when you notice that I'm gone
Don't come around cause I've moved on
Just watch my back walk out the door
Cause I don't want you

No, I don't want you
