

My Heart's Waiting

Jessica Lowndes

Close my eyes and fall into your arms
'Cause I know, I'm safe where you are
And I'll be yours, it's time I cross my heart
And I'll hold your hand when life gets hard

You should know love is patient
Don't lose hope, my heart's waiting

Winds may blow and storms might bring the rain
When it's cold, I know we'll be okay
And I'll be yours if no one's on your side
In the end, I'll you help find the light

You should know love is patient
Don't lose hope, my heart's waiting
I feel hope when you're with me
You should know, my heart's waiting
