

Never Ever

Jessica Mauboy

You were there alone I was on my own too
Looking at my phone while my eyes are on you
You don't even know you're my little secret
Maybe this is wrong but I want to keep it

Ever since I fell
There's no one I can tell
Somehow it feels sweeter keeping this all to myself

I lie awake just thinking about you
But you'll never know
I let you go 'cause I needed to
I even wrote this song all about you
But you'll never know
Yeah you'll never know what you put me through
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know

There ain't nothing worse than a love that goes bad
But you can never really lose what you never had
And I know it's the truth ain't nobody perfect
So what I'm gonna do is keep you all in my head

Ever since I fell
There's no one I can tell
Somehow it feels sweeter keeping this all to myself

I lie awake just thinking about you
But you'll never know
I let you go 'cause I needed to
I even wrote this song all about you
But you'll never know
Yeah you'll never know what you put me through
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
You'll neverevery know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know

I've been hurt before
I'd rather see you in my head than walking out the door
Ever since I fell
There's no one I can tell
Somehow it feels sweeter keeping this all to myself

I lie awake just thinking about you
But you'll never know
I let you go 'cause I needed to
I even wrote this song all about you
But you'll never know
Yeah you'll never know what you put me through
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever

Never ever know
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
You'll never ever know never ever know never ever
Never ever know
