

Free Will

Jessica Simpson

I've stood at the crossroads
And I've always chosen you
Passed you down the high road
But I keep you in my view

I don't want nobody else
Don't want nobody else

I could leave if I want to
These walls are made of stone
But they don't hold me
I'm not a prisoner
I'm here of my own free will
I could leave if I want to
These chains around my heart already broken
I'm not a prisoner
I'm here of my own free will

Years of giving over
Heaven knows I've paid my dues
We're not getting younger
But we've still got time to lose

So I don't want nobody else
No, I don't want nobody else

I could leave if I want to
These walls are made of stone
But they don't hold me
I'm not a prisoner
I'm here of my own free will
I could leave if I want to
These chains around my heart already broken
I'm not a prisoner
I'm here of my own free will

Storm cloud skies
Oh, I'm standing in the eye but I'm not movin'
Sweet sunrise
I know the light will always come out where the truth is

I could leave if I want to
These walls are made of stone
But they don't hold me
I'm not a prisoner
I'm here of my own free will
I could leave if I want to
These chains around my heart already broken
I'm not a prisoner
I'm here of my own free will
Oh, of my own free will
