

Shutter Island

Jessie Reyez

The goodbyes are getting old
Next time you can go ahead and go
I'm tired of begging you to love me
(Arguments and fighting and shit)

Goodness, gracious, you're amazing
According to you, I'm a lucky lady
So why'd you lie to me?
Why do I cry to sleep?

Goodness, gracious, I'm replaceable
You say that I'm too crazy
I guess you were right
I guess you were right

My straight jacket's custom-made though
(With fucking diamonds)
My straight jacket's custom-made though
(With fucking rubies)
I'm crazy just like Galileo
My straight jacket's custom-made though

You keep hitting, I've been bruised
Holy field I can't hear you
I'm tired of begging you to love me

You're expecting me to say
Loco, please, please stay
I'm tired of begging you to love me
(Arguments, of course you'd stay)

Goodness, gracious, you're amazing
According to you, I'm a lucky lady
So why do I cry to sleep?
Why'd you lie to me?

Goodness, gracious, I'm replaceable
You say that I'm too crazy
I guess you were right
I guess you were right

My straight jacket's custom-made though
(With fucking diamonds)
My straight jacket's custom-made though
(With fucking rubies)
I'm crazy just like Galileo
My straight jacket's custom-made though
(With diamonds)

For a second I forgot I was a bad bitch
Begging you to stay became a habit
I'm tired of begging you to love me

I know I can be better, needed practice
I know I can be better, but the fact is
I'm tired of begging you to love me

Goodness gracious, let's just break up
I tried everything to save us
So why do I cry to sleep
Every time you try to leave?

Goodness, gracious, this relationship
Is full of so much hatred
I guess you were right
I guess you were right
