

Drowning

Jesus On Extasy

Everything perfect in this world
Vanishes in just one moment
We can try to hold it
But it runs through our hands
All the beauty in this world
Slowly rots and fades away
We can try to keep young
But we can't fight time

But I believe that you're for real
I never knew how it would feel

I was drowning in the sky
Your lips were rockets
I was high
The clouds were smiling at me
And suddenly I saw the light
I was drowning in your love
But suddenly it got so tough
The pills can push the pain away
But there's no pill to make you stay

Everything honest in this world
Dies from the moment it was born
I'm the father of all lies
You better not trust

But I believe that you're for real
I never knew how it would feel

I was drowning in the sky
Your lips were rockets
I was high
The clouds were smiling at me
And suddenly I saw the light
I was drowning in your love
But suddenly it got so tough
The pills can push the pain away
But there's no pill to make you stay

I was drowning in the sky
Your lips were rockets
I was high
The clouds were smiling at me
And suddenly I saw the light
I was drowning in your love
But suddenly it got so tough
The pills can push the pain away
But there's no pill to make you stay
