

RISK, RISK, RISK!

Jhariah

This ledge should know better
That we would've never
Worked out together
A losing bet
Show me all your tricks
I'll empty my pockets
Wager all you've got
And run me all that shit

I can't take another day
I need some change
I need more to put behind my name
It's all the same
How can you say
Just what I'm meant to be

I'm gunning for the deep end
There's demons
I'm ready for em
I know you're feening for uncertainty
But I'm not scared
At break-neck speed
There's things you just can't see with such precautions eyes
You're petrified of being proven right
Oh that just won't do
I don't think I need to tell you
You'll see me when I do
While you're eating your feet
I'm stealing your teeth
The things in my dreams wish they could chase me

I just can't take another day
I need some change
I need more to put behind my name
It's all the same
How can you say
Just what I'm meant to be

Satisfied in grandiose dreams
Panopticon of possibilities
Paranoid of me watching

Better bite your tongue!

I just can't take another day
I need some change
I need more, need more, need more
It's all the same
How can you say
Just what I'm meant to be
So fast and I'm not scared to crash I'm gone

It's really not a competition
I just got an affinity for winning
And a penchant for grinning
In my liabilities, Envision beginnings
I don't second-guess a vision

Set it, abet it, and go
I don't think y'all' really hearing me
The pace alone decides who's in my vicinity
Change the poles, rehire the gravity to trade for gold
Lose it all, get it back twice in a night
Hard-headed, I'm nice with the dice
I'll fund it
Luck's redundant
Got abundant trust
I'm up
