

Remember

Jhené Aiko

This is the saddest story I have ever heard
Call early in the morning when I got the word
She says that it's his son, he says not at all
Please miss me with the excuses
I am not involved, no not at all

Calm down, you know my heart (you know my heart)
Can't take anymore, damn
Said this before (said this before), yeah
Do you remember, do you remember you?
Do you remember, do you remember who you were?
Do you remember who you were?
Do you remember, do you remember who?
Do you remember, do you remember who you were to me?
Cause I do

Tell all the homies that your the one to blame
And when you speak my name
I'd like you to explain the lies you told me
That's why I walked away
I never did complain, you never heard me say
"You's a suck ass, busta ass"
If they ask tell them that, I ain't mad
I'm just sad it never worked out
Now you coming back, second chance fuck all that
You gave her what we had
And yet still there's no love loss here

Do you remember, do you remember who
Do you remember, do you remember who you were?
Do you remember, do you remember who you were to me?
Cause I do