

Everytime

Jigsaw

Wintertime, it was soaking wet
We don't mind the rain
Sunny day that we won't forget
Down a country lane

Every day as time goes by, the feeling seems to grow
A waste of time to ask me why, I only know it's so

'Cause every time we kiss, your lips are sweeter than before
And every time we love, we love much deeper than before
Even simple things like holding hands
Reassure that someone understands
You know that every time I hold you, there's a magic when we touch
And every time so little means so much
Every time

Love's a word that two people use
When they feel this way
Love's a game that we thought we'd lose
At the start of play

Every day as time goes by, the feeling seems to grow
A waste of time to ask me why, I only know it's so

'Cause every time we kiss, your lips are sweeter than before
And every time we love, we love much deeper than before
Even simple things like holding hands
Reassure that someone understands
You know that every time I hold you, there's a magic when we touch
And every time so little means so much
Every time

Every time we kiss, your lips are sweeter than before
And every time we love, we love much deeper than before
Even simple things like holding hands
Reassure that someone understands
You know that every time I hold you, there's a magic when we touch
And every time so little means so much

And every time we kiss, your lips are sweeter than before
And every time we love, we love much deeper than before
