

Just for Now

Jill Barber

Someday I will find the time
When it ain't lookin' I'll sneak up from behind
Grab a hold and slowly unwind
But for now, just for now, I'm gonna rest my mind

Someday I will be early to rise
And watch the morning sun come up in the sky
Come out of the shade that I've been hiding behind
But for now, just for now, I'm gonna rest my eyes

Someday soon I will find a good man
And take his hand and let myself fall in love
Someday I'm gonna start that life that I have long been dreamin'
' of
But for now, just for now, I will let my mind wander
And dream a little longer just for now
Just for now
