

Let's Call it Love

Jill Barber

There are things I want to say
But there are no words
And there are way I want to show you
But the actions seem absurd

The way that I feel is so hard to explain
So let's call it love
For lack of a better name

There are things beyond fate
That I know are true
I was blind, but now I see
With eyes just for you
The way that I feel is so hard to contain

So let's call it love
For lack of a better name
For love by any other name
Is only sweeter when you feel the same

The way that I feel is so hard to explain
So let's call it love
Let's call it love
Let's call it love
For lack of a better name
