

Today

Jill Barber

Today I will hold you in my arms
Today I will squeeze you tight
And I will be your woman tonight
For as sure as I sing this song
There will be a day come along
Turns a sweet melody into a faint memory
Of an old forgotten song

So today I will say I love you
And pray that day won't come too soon
And promise as long as you'll listen
That won't change that tune
Cause even hearts that break
Won't be time in the the [?]

So today I will hold you in my arms
Today I will squeeze you tight
And I will be your woman be your woman tonight
