

Are You Feeling It Now

Jill Johnson

Boy I tried to tell you time and time I never seemed to reach you but I kept trying It's just like having one more glass of wine you wanna ease the pain but you just keep crying

Couldn't make you understand couldn't make you shed a tear couldn't make you feel the lonely I was feeling when I was there Deepest love I've ever known stood there like you're made of stone like nothing could take you down not even my walking out
are you feeling it now

Did it hit you when I closed the door did it take one night or a couple more did the quiet finally make it real baby now you know just how I feel

Couldn't make you understand
couldn't make you shed a tear
couldn't make you feel the lonely
I was feeling when I was there
Deepest love I've ever known
stood there like you're made of stone
like nothing could take you down
not even my walking out
are you feeling it now

Did you have to hit your knees and fall apart Did I really have to leave to break your heart

Couldn't make you understand
couldn't make you shed a tear
couldn't make you feel the lonely
I was feeling when I was there
Deepest love I've ever known
stood there like you're made of stone
like nothing could take you down
not even my walking out
are you feeling it now
oh oh
Are you feeling it now