

Roll My Way

Jill Johnson

I've always been stubborn hearted baby I was just wired too tight crossed the line before I get started not enough hours in the day or night I've been running us too hard lately You've been diggin' your heals in deep I think it's time that I slow down maybe think it's time I let you lead I'm trying something new gonna step back a little and see how things might play
All I gotta do is stop pushing the river and let you, let you, let you roll my way

I think i'm liking how this is working I should've done it long time ago finally giving in what's it hurting I'm loving going with the flow I'm trying something new I just just tep back a little and see how things might play
All I gotta do is stop pushing the river
and let you, let you, let you roll my way come on, come on, come on let's see what you got Do you, do you, do you have it in you or not

I'm trying something new gonna step back a little and see how things might play All I gotta do is stop pushing the river and let you, let you, let you let you try something new, when I step back a little and see how things might play All I gotta do is stop pushing the river and let you let you let you roll my way Roll my way
roll my way
oh yeah roll my roll my roll my way roll my roll my roll my way
roll my roll my roll my way
roll my roll my roll my way oh oh ohoh roll my roll my roll my way
