For the next song, utterance discretion is advised
You may sing along, but if you get your shit shook
I am not liable, responsible, or at fault, or fault-adjacent

If you get kicked, let's say, in the mouth, or punched in the back of the neck
There is zero accountability here
Zero, null, nil

If two or three my-size sisters
Or two or five people in this here place, happen to stomp the fuck out of you
With caramel butters
That is entirely, wholly, completely, and utterly your fault
