

Letting Go

Jillette Johnson

Nice to see you, how've you been
What a coincidence
I guess we're neighbors now
Look at us settling down

If I asked myself two years ago if I'd be here, I'd have said n o
That makes a person wonder what else in the world is coming up
I have my dreams, I make my plans
I like to think I understand everything
Cause it calms me down
When I feel like I'm out of control
But I stare at the sky
And I look at my life
And I feel myself letting go

We've got so much to catch up on Where to start and how to fit
Every little thing that happened
This year has been a trip

If I asked myself two years ago if I'd be here, I'd have said n
That makes a person wonder what else in the world is coming up
I have my dreams, I make my plans
I like to think I understand everything
Cause it calms me down
When I feel like I'm out of control
But I stare at the sky
And I look at my life
And I feel myself letting go
