

Flourishing, Thriving

Jillian Edwards

Verse 1

There's a secret place inside
There are mysteries for only you to find
There's a song that's only sung between you and God
I pray you find the words
Let the melodies run through the halls of your heart
Let the echo fill the space, let the silence break

Chorus

Bring Him all your cares, bring Him all your heart
What's never seen, just place in His loving arms
So you can hold what's true, His very love for you
I know it well, it's all I want for you
It's a flourishing, thriving, friendship with God

Verse 2

Some days you'll hear Him speak
Crystal clear and it'll bring you to your feet
And bring praise to your lips and joy to your soul
When it happens, hold it tight
In His presence just sing with all your might
Let it carry you through the hardest of times

Chorus

Bring Him all your cares, bring Him all your heart
What's never seen, just place in His loving arms
So you can hold what's true, His very love for you
I know it well, it's all I want for you
It's a flourishing, thriving, friendship with God

Bridge

When you can not find the words within yourself
Listen first, He'll sing it back to you
Let the sound of Heaven's song wrap you up and take you home
He's waiting there for you
He's singing over you, singing over you

Chorus

Bring Him all your cares, bring Him all your heart
What's never seen, just place in His loving arms
So you can hold what's true, His very love for you
I know it well, it's all I want for you
It's a flourishing, thriving, friendship with God
It's a flourishing, thriving, friendship with God
