

Overdue

Jillian Jacqueline

Been a year of bad hair days, and check engine lights
Spilled a lot of coffee cups and spent a lot of time cryin
Watched too much TV and it just makes me sad
I wish I didn't want the things that I don't have

I'm so overdue
For a little bit too good to be true
For a ticket to a life with a better view
I'm tired of waiting
For the winds to change and catch by breath
For a love that rewinds over us
That takes and makes a heart like mine brand new
I'm so overdue for someone like you

I put the same old bandaids on the same stupid scars
Couldn't get a nowhere fast cause I don't know where to start
I've gone a little bit crazy thinking a little bit too much
Now I'm overthinking cause baby you finally showed up

I'm so overdue
For a little bit too good to be true
For a ticket to a life with a better view
I'm tired of waiting
For the winds to change and catch by breath
For a love to rewinds over us
That takes and makes a heart like mine brand new
I'm so overdue for someone like you

Could be the answered prayer
That makes my whole world stop and stare
You standing on but what your love can do

I'm so overdue
For a little bit too good to be true
For a ticket to a life with a better view
I'm tired of waiting
For the winds to change and catch by breath
For a love to rewinds over us
That takes and makes a heart like mine brand new
I'm so overdue for someone like you
