

Bare Minimum

Jillian Rossi

I wore a sweatshirt the first time I met ya
Zero intention of tryna impress ya
Didn't care much about your existence
Didn't think you were even that different
But you would call me and we'd talk for hours
Felt so good but you had all the power
I became your favorite obsession
And you were just another hard lesson

Six months of chasing and hunting me down
'Til I became available and you moved to town
Got real so you started running
Now I'm the girl for two in the morning

So the lights are low and the TV's on
In your ripped up tee and a strapless bra
Don't know why I choose to continue us
You like me wearing the bare minimum
But you pull me close and my head goes numb
I should end it now but I'm not that strong
Don't know why I choose to continue us
'Cause you give me the bare minimum

Oh, oh-oh
You give me the bare minimum
Oh-oh-oh

Guys with big boy jobs take me out in New York
But nothing compares to being almost yours
Thought it was fate but it was all fake, so
Now I'm here and I just kinda hate ya

Six months of chasing and hunting me down
'Til I became available and you moved to town
Got real so you started running
Now I'm the girl for two in the morning

So the lights are low and the TV's on (It's on)
In your ripped up tee and a strapless bra
Don't know why I choose to continue us
You like me wearing the bare minimum
But you pull me close and my head goes numb
I should end it now, but I'm not that strong (Oh, yeah)
Don't know why I choose to continue us
'Cause you give me the bare minimum

Six months of chasing and hunting me down
Now that you can have me, you're barely around
(No, you're not around)
You love the game more than a real person
(You love the game, oh)
Constantly hunting and begging for more
I'll never know what the hell it was for
You love the game even if I'm hurting
(Even if I'm hurting)

So the lights are low and the TV's on (TV's on)

In your ripped up tee and a strapless bra
Don't know why I choose to continue us (Oh, why?)
'Cause you give me the bare minimum
But you pull me close and my head goes numb
I should end it now (I should end it now)
But I'm not that strong
Don't know why I choose to continue us
'Cause you give me the bare minimum

Oh, oh-oh
You give me the bare minimum
Oh-oh-oh, oh-oh
