

All in Time

Jim Cuddy

She sits like a bird on a wire
she put the stars in my eyes.
She takes me higher and higher she never speaks but she cries.

Sometimes I wake up and it's already night.
Look out my window and I'm frightened by the sight.
All the streets are glowing in the pale moonlight.

She slips her hand into mine leads me along through the park.
She knows the questions but it's never the time soon I'm alone in the dark.

It's time I rise up
and move with the breeze.
Get out of my head
I'm so easy to please.
I think I'm getting tired of being down on my knees.

You know that I'm waiting
you're making excuses
I'm borderline useless from hanging around.
My whole body's swaying
this game we keep playing
has left me here praying the walls will come down.
All in time.

She wears a mystical ring
sparkles when she moves her hand.
She sends me back all the gifts that I bring laughs cause I don't understand.

It's time I rise up
and move with the breeze.
Get out of my head now
I'm so easy to please.
I think I'm getting tired of being down on my knees.

You know that I'm waiting
you're making excuses
I'm borderline useless from hanging around.
My whole body's swaying
this game we keep playing
has left me here praying the walls will come down.
All in time.
