One Thing Right

Jim Cuddy

When I used to think about love's pain and glory
Felt like a hand was pushing me down
Then I saw your face, didn't know your story
Only knew that I wanted you to be around

Took a little time to break on through
Only so much that words can do, oh-oh-whoa

Now I know for sure, I can't change anymore
And I can't even read your mind if I wanted to
Just like you told me tonight, I did one thing right
'Cause no matter what we've done
There's no magic that is gone
When I look at you
When I look at you

Road down some roads that could open and shut me
Had a few dark nights on a long, long ride
Didn't care about trouble, didn't care what cut me
Now I wear my scars with pride

You and I, we've always known
Just where we've been, where we're going

Now I know for sure, I can't change anymore
And I can't even read your mind if I wanted to
Just like you told me tonight, I did one thing right
'Cause no matter what we've done
There's no magic that is gone
When I look at you
When I look at you

I watch you staring off in the distance
As the nighttime slowly fades to day
Never was much point in my resistance
'Cause I fall whenever you turn my way

Took a little time to break on through
Only so much that words can do, oh-oh-whoa

Now I know for sure, I can't change anymore
And I can't even read your mind if I wanted to
Just like you told me tonight, I did one thing right
'Cause no matter what we've done
There's no magic that is gone
When I look at you
When I look at you
When I look at you
When I look at you
