

Highways

Jim Sullivan

There's a highway
Telling me to go where I can
Such a long way
I don't even know where I am

Such a long way
Long, long, way

Gonna sit right here where I am

And it's easier to stay here
Think I know my way here
I'm gonna lay here, alright

Tomorrow
I'm going to hang my feet in a stream
Pretending
My world is real, yours a dream
And the highways, high oh high way
I'm gonna sit right here where I am

And it's easier to stay here
Think I know my way here
I'm gonna lay here, alright

Tickin time now
Said alive ain't my cup of tea
As a fight now
Some tickin life goes to the sea

Needing highways
High oh high ways
I'm gonna sit right where I am

And it's easier to stay here
Think I know my way here
I'm gonna lay here

Gonna sit here, write a song
Any time one comes along, I'm alright
I gotta be alright
I gotta be alright now
I gotta be alright
I gotta be alright now
