Ho -oh oh bo-oh-oh Billy

Riding on an eastbound freight train Speeding through the night

Hobo Bill, a railroad bum was fighting for his life The sadness of his eyes revealed the torture of his

He raised a weak and weary hand to brush away the cold

Ho -oh oh bo-oh-oh Billy

No warm lights flickered around him, no blankets there to fold

Nothing but the howling wind and the driving rain so cold

When he heard a whistle blowing in a dreamy kind of way The hobo seemed contented for he smiled there where he lay

Ho -oh oh bo-oh-oh Bill

Outside the rain was falling on that lonely boxcar door But the little form of Hobo Bill lay still upon the floor

While the train sped through the darkness and the raging storm outside $% \left(1\right) =\left(1\right) +\left(1\right) +\left($

No one knew that Hobo Bill was taking his last ride

Woo...woo....

It was early in the morning when they raised the hobo's head

The smile still lingered on his face, but Hobo Bill was dead

There was no mother's longing to soothe his weary soul For he was just a railroad bum who died out in the cold

Woo...woo...
