

My Gummie Just Kicked In

Jimmy Buffett

A summer party on the South Shore
Wine and laughter and a little bit more
From the pretty girl next to me, out of the blue
Came a proclamation only heard by few

Don't know where I'm goin'
Don't know where I've been
All I know for certain
Is my gummie just kicked in

Feelin' no pain, she ejected from her chair
Sprang up on the table and let down her hair
A procession of expression, frozen in shock
Then the Sixties came alive, as she yelled, "Let's rock"

Don't know where I'm goin'
Don't know where I've been
All I know for certain
Is my gummie just kicked in

Tantalizing, tempting state I'm in Advertising as a saintly sin
Won't you come on in

A cappella frogs croaked a big bass sound
Then the full moon rose and the sun went down
The gummie in her tummy wasn't breaking any laws
She rode a buzz float in her own Mardi Gras

Don't know where I'm goin'
Don't know where I've been
All I know for certain
Is my gummie just
My gummie just
My gummie just kicked in

A summer party on the South Shore
Wine and laughter and a whole lot more
From the pretty girl next to me, out of the blue
Came a proclamation only heard by few

Don't know where I'm goin'
Don't know where I've been
All I know for certain is
My gummie just
My gummie just
My gummie just kicked in

My gummie just
My gummie just
My gummie just kicked in
My gummie just
My gummie just
Kicked in, wow
