

A Million Tears From Now

Jimmy Dean

Although you said goodbye and left me here to cry

I'll still want you a million tears from now

No other lips can give my heart a chance to live

I won't be free a million tears from now

Time will change many things new seasons will come and go

But I will never change because I love you so

Is your heart made of stone will I still be alone

And missing you a million tears from now

Repeat #2
